

CAPITAL WOMAN SUES; PAPERS IN CASE GONE

Mrs. Edith Hammerley Roosevelt Files Action Against Husband. New York Clubman.

New York, Oct. 29.—A suit mysteriously instituted in the Supreme Court by Mrs. Edith Hammerley Roosevelt against her husband, John Ellis Roosevelt, has been secretly excluded from the files of the county clerk's office.

The defendant in the case is a cousin of former President Roosevelt and a noted clubman and lawyer in this city. At his home in Madison avenue tonight it was stated that Mr. Roosevelt was not in, and that Mrs. Roosevelt no longer lives there. Her address could not be ascertained.

THREE POSITIONS OPEN TO CITIZENS OF U. S.

Carnegie Institution Needs Employees in Foreign Countries, Aboard Yacht and in Laboratory.

Three jobs paying from $900 to $1,500 a year in the department of terrestrial magnetism of the Carnegie Institution of Washington are to be filled by November 15.

The duties of the positions imply assignments to magnetic survey or observational work in foreign countries or on board the magnetic survey yacht "Carnegie," as well as in the laboratory of the department in Washington.

Only citizens of the United States are eligible for appointment. Applications should be forwarded to the director of the department of terrestrial magnetism, Thirty-sixth street and Broad, Branch road.

Morning Smiles.
Johnny—Pa, what is a "quandary"?
Father—It's what a man gets into when he tells his wife a lie and doesn't know whether she believes it or not—Judge.

"I'll try to make you a good husband, dear."
—And I have no doubt that you will succeed, Mother and I will get your death in that direction vigorously."
—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Caller—I suppose you can spell all the good words, Bobbie.
Bobbie—I can spell a lot of big ones.
—I can even spell words of four letters.—Boston Transcript.

"Pardon me, sir," suavely said the passenger who wished to borrow one for a moment, "but have you a fountain pen?"
"New!" replied the crotchety traveler: "I have just done up a public school; what makes me look so savage?"
—Puck.

Little Edna—"Why wouldn't it do to pray for our bread once a week or once a month? Why must we ask every day for our daily bread?"
Older sister—So as to have it fresh, rooney.—Boston Transcript.

Ballerger Must Curb Temper.
John R. Ballenger, of 90 K street south-east, is at liberty under his personal bonds on condition that he curb his temper. He was in Police Court yesterday charged with having threatened the life of his wife, Mrs. Mary B. Ballenger. Judge Pugh told both husband and wife that they needed to pull in the reins on their temper.

Asserts Courts Overcrowd Jail by Delayed Sentences

Supt. Zinkham Thinks Large Number of Prisoners Working at Asylum and Jail Are Another Cause—Long Detention Hurts Mind and Body.

Overcrowded conditions at the District Jail are attributed to the delay of the courts in disposing of criminal cases, by L. F. Zinkham, superintendent of the institution, in a synopsis of his annual report, submitted to Commissioner Newman yesterday. The heads of the various branches of the District submit these synopses to be compiled in book form for the use of Congress.

"The large population at the jail is due to two things," reads the report. "First, the necessary number of prisoners with jail sentences, held to do the detailed work in the various departments of the Washington Asylum and Jail, and, second, the delay in disposing of criminal cases by the courts. Some prisoners have been waiting trial many months."

Long Detention Hurtful.
"It seems necessary to have additional provisions to try criminal cases. Long detention in jail is hurtful to the mind and body. The total commitments to jail are very large and will continue so unless the law is changed."
The foregoing statement bears a timely significance to the action of Chief Justice Covington several days ago in appointing a committee of lawyers to suggest revisions in the District code of laws.

"The fixed sentence is of little benefit to the offender," the report continues.

Heavy Clothing and Less Steam Heat Aid Health and Pocket, Says Woodward

Wear heavy clothing and keep down the steam in the furnace if you would be healthy during the winter. This is the advice of Dr. William C. Woodward, District health officer, who points out in an inducement that you would thereby greatly reduce your coal bill and could put the money spent for cough syrup into the bank.

"I do not believe in wearing light clothing during the cold months," said Dr. Woodward, "but the high degree of heat maintained in office buildings and in many homes makes it unsafe to wear heavy clothing. A man, for instance, wears heavy clothing when he leaves for work. Well, if the heat at his place of employment is kept up to 12 degrees that man is uncomfortable and unsafe. If the heat were kept down to about 60 the man would be healthier."

"And aside from the health view, it is an economic proposition. Figure the amount of coal that could be saved during the entire winter by this reduction in the heating of our buildings."

In referring to the common complaint that weather conditions change so frequently and suddenly in Washington, Dr. Woodward said:

"I do not think the changes in the temperature or other weather conditions are very dangerous to health if a person trains his system and regulates his habits to meet the conditions."

"Of course, if a man eats too much, works too hard or does not get sufficient exercise his body will not be able to stand sudden changes in the weather conditions. But if he eats and drinks moderately and takes proper exercise, he is in no danger."

Dr. Woodward said that he did not believe an unusual proportion of the sickness in the District could be attributed to the climate here.

PALESTINE CONDITIONS GOOD.

Eliaeson Says They're Better Than in London.

Conditions in Palestine, whence so many reports of famine and death have emanated, are better than in London, M. Eliaeson, who left Palestine six months ago, told members of the Ahava Zion Society at a meeting last night at its rooms, 515 Ninth street northwest.

In his lecture on Palestine, Mr. Eliaeson said conditions there were not as bad as they were reported. Prices are high, he said, but conditions are worse in England.

D. Alpher, chairman of the committee on arrangements, who presided, announced that at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon there will be held at Pythian

Temple a conference of the Jewish Congress, comprising all Jewish societies in the District.

LOVERS SHOULD BE CAREFUL.

No Crime to Watch 'Em Through Spy Glasses, Judge Rules.

New York, Oct. 28.—It's not a crime to watch love-makers in the park through spy glasses, according to the ruling today by Magistrate Koenig in Police Court. He discharged Harry Steinmetz, 25, and John Twomey, sergeants of the naval reserve ship Grange State, who were arrested for having stationed themselves aboard a boxcar on the New York Central tracks at the water's edge and watched the spooners on Riverside Drive through their binoculars.

The men said this was a favorite sport of the boys aboard ship.

"If young people insist on making love in public they must take consequences," remarked the judge.

Sportsman—It is worth my time to shoot in this neighborhood.

Native—Well, the shooting ain't with ducks, but then, I don't know what your time is with.—Boston Transcript.
